

The Watering Down of Evil

Let's begin right from the start with a scripture, Isaiah 5: 20-21. and 23. `Woe to them that call evil good, and good evil, that put darkness for light, and light for darkness, that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter! Woe to them that are wise in their own eyes, and prudent in their own sight. Which acquit the wicked for bribes, and take away the righteousness of the righteous from him.` How many times these days have we noticed in the media or viewed and heard on our T.V.'s the currently `politically correct` way that politicians and broadcasters etc., reekdown, describe and publicise lawlessness, or to be more precise, EVIL, as merely being an inevitable part of a person's `human nature`? We are informed that criminals, persistent or otherwise, are not to be `punished` or severely admonished by having them serve a harsh prison sentence or hanged for murder, but rather they are to be mindfully `rehabilitated` often in comfortable, well maintained surroundings, where they are kept nice and warm, clean and well fed, given all the best medical treatment immediately (no hospital waiting lists for them!) and given a veritable menu of pastimes to occupy and amuse themselves during their plentiful idle moments. These `no-gooders` (for the sake of this article I am `tarring them all with the same brush`) having committed their crimes against ordinary, decent people and having deprived many of them of the feeling of safety that they should rightfully expect to experience in their own homes, are now being given opportunities to advance in life that are denied many of us who are law abiding citizens or who have children that are. (even keeping the bad, man-made laws that have been foisted on us over the years) How much would it cost the average mum and dad to put a son or daughter through university or college and to clothe and feed them throughout this time and provide them with spending money and all of the other things? Do you want to know? Well maybe we could get an idea if we were to ask a lawbreaking prisoner what the cost to their mum and dad has been for an equivalent learning opportunity. The answer? Of course it's nothing, nil, zilch! But that's not all, after they have served their `time` they are given every help and opportunity to secure a job and find accommodation, and who's picking up the bill for all of this? yes, you've guessed it, the ordinary law abiding people pay for it all, and the really `sick` part of it is this, this includes most of the victims of these cossetted criminals. Have you heard, at the time when this article was first written, (about four or so years ago now) the British government, because our prisons are so welcoming and accommodating, were offering some inmates the enticing sum of £2,000. to `please leave the prison and go home`. This speaks volumes about the failure of society in general and successive governments in particular to try and live their lives and deal with evil and lawless people, without taking any notice of the commandments of Almighty God. This increasingly worldwide society, this `global village` of which we are all (so we are led to believe) increasingly becoming a part of, must earnestly and urgently ask itself. . . `If there is seen to be no just and workable deterrent or `punishment` for anybody breaking the law, then why should anybody bother to keep the law in the first place?` This is especially so as all law is now perceived by the majority of the world's people as being man-made, as being men imposing their moral standards upon fellow men who, understandably, will not entirely agree with other men's moral codes, good or bad. The one true law-giver of any worth, the Lord God, has been, for the most part, removed from the moral equation. We have now, sadly, in our ever increasingly morally bankrupt society, a state were the lawless criminals don't even care if they get caught committing their crimes anymore because, after all, what is to be their `punishment`? Well, for the majority, what it is to be is this, it is to be a welcome break out of the hard and competitive world of reality and into the mothering confines of the penal system. These criminal types know that in the real world there are no free holidays, there are no instant free of charge hip operations and the like, there is no free corrective dental surgery or any sort of cosmetic `Mira Hindley` type plastic surgery, there are no free weekend or longer pleasure trips abroad, there are no all-expenses-paid shopping trips, no free leisure centres, gymnasiums or snooker rooms, no free cinema or theatre, no free and ready access to the legal system, having barristers, solicitors and even judges at your `beck and call`, no easy, hassle free access to all sorts of benefits with trained people to help you every step of the way, etc., etc. Unfortunately for the tax payer the list goes on and on, and as a consequence, so does the criminal lawlessness, and given the way of things, why shouldn't it? Because when these lazy, selfish, evil criminals, compare the lifestyle that they can have access to within the penal system compared to the harsh and unfair reality of everyday life that has to be endured by so many normal, hardworking and basically decent, law abiding people, they are going to opt for a life of crime every time. Many `prisons` don't even have `escape proof` surrounding walls anymore, instead they nestle snugly within their well tended grounds whilst affording their `inmates` with pleasant and comfortable environs and some even provide a `front door` key so that the `inmates` can come and go as they please. They are at liberty to roam the streets and towns just so long as they agree to return in time to register for dinner, tea or supper as the case may be. We, (the taxpayers who are footing the bill for all of this Satanic madness), are told that it is all part of the rehabilitation programme to enable these evil no-gooders to re-enter into society, but as what? Well I can tell those who control this haywire penal system as what, as immature, inept, insecure, bone-idle, untrustworthy, conniving, state dependent, lying, lawbreaking, drug taking, drug dealing, malcontents. They couldn't care less if and when they get caught re-offending because they know that the worst thing that will happen to them is that they will get sent back to rejoin all of their `friends` in the `holiday camp` that laughably passes for a prison. Yes, these criminals know only too well what modern society has to offer them, easy pickings, and they are getting easier all the time as they see that there is no deterrent or any real `punishment` for criminal law breakers as opposed to the many easy targets such as motorists who get severe punishments both financial and penal, metered out to them every hour of every day. There is no `punishment` for real lawbreakers, only, it would seem, reward. Reward if they get away with a crime (and more and more are) and reward if they are sent to court and convicted of committing a crime. Of course none of this is new to the Lord God, He knew right from the beginning what would happen to a society, to a race of people, that either forgets or ignores its` Creator and His laws, let`s read Psalm 73: 3-12. `For I was envious at the foolish, when I saw the prosperity of the wicked. For there are no bands in their death, but their strength is firm. They are not in trouble as other men, neither are they plagued like other men. Therefore pride surrounds them like a chain, violence covers them as a garment. Their eyes stand out with fatness, they have more than a heart could wish for. They are corrupt and speak wickedly, they speak arrogantly about oppression. They set their mouth against the heavens and their tongue walks through the earth. Therefore his people return and the waters of a full cup are wrung out to them. And they say; how does God know? and, Is there knowledge in the most high? Behold, these are the ungodly who prosper in the world, they increase in riches`. Successive governments of this country of Britain are very good at talking about law and order, but what they continually and woefully fail to address is lawlessness and disorder, and is it any wonder when the general public of this country are subjected to so much lies and immorality, deviousness, bad man-made laws, broken promises, weak and ineffective guidelines, and all this from the very government itself ! The so-called `christian` churches of this country are no better, in fact, bearing in mind just Who they are supposed to represent, they are very much worse. How many times have we heard of (and yet to hear of) all of the perverted practices and behaviour of their priests towards young boys and girls? Oh, what a fine example they are all setting for our children and I don`t think! Well, what they have sown they are only just beginning to reap but the indignation that they are experiencing now is as nothing compared to what they will ultimately experience, let`s have a look at Matthew 18: 6-7. `But whosoever shall offend one of these little ones that believe in Me, it would be better for him if a millstone were to be hung around his neck and that he were to be drowned in the depth of the sea. Woe to the world because of offences, for it needs be that offences will come, but woe to the man by which the offence comes.` and verse 10. `Take heed that you despise not one of these little ones, for I say to you, that in heaven their angels do always behold the face of My Father, which is in heaven.` Year after year, successive governments and church `authorities` have been ignoring, removing or twisting to their own perverse interpretations, the laws of Almighty God. They have certainly removed many of these laws from their own `offices` and lives but far more seriously they have been removing and attempting to remove them from the lives of the people of our nation. God created, flesh and blood, has no inherent law, just as the wild beasts of the fields have no law. But what sets mankind aside from the wild beasts is the fact that the Lord God has given us the in-built capability of recognizing law and order and He has also given us the free choice as to whether we will obey His laws or not. He has given each and every one of us the `spirit`, to enable us to subconsciously realise that there is one `law of the flesh`, of earthly sensual things, and that we must eat and drink in order to survive, and wash to keep clean etc., and that there is another `law of the spirit`, which we need to obey and continue to practice in order to keep under control carnal lusts and desires and to recognise and resist evil and to be pleasing in our God`s sight, let`s read Job: 32: 8. `But there is a spirit in man, and the inspiration of the Almighty gives them understanding.` Now we`ll have a look at John 3: 5-6. `Jesus answered; truly, truly I say unto you, except a man be born of water and of the spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. That which is born of the flesh is flesh, and that which is born of the spirit is spirit.` and now John 6: 63. `It is the spirit that makes a person alive, the flesh profits nothing, the words that I speak to you, they are spirit, and they are life.` Now, just to underline the fact that the Lord God`s laws are not just a meaningless `killjoy` form of tyrannical restraint that so many weak characters in this world would try to have us believe that they are, we`ll turn to and read Ephesians 6: 1-3. `Children, obey your parents in the Lord, for this is right. Honour your father and mother, (which is the first commandment with promise) that it may be well with you and that you have a long life upon this earth.` and now to verses 11-12. `Put on the whole armour of God, so that you will be able to resist the schemes of the devil, because we do not fight against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places.` and verse 16. `Above all, taking the shield of faith, with which you will be able to extinguish all the fiery arrows of the wicked.` We can understand that if the people of this world have, for the most part, thrown away their faith in Almighty God, by ignoring and not keeping His commandments, and instead have replaced them with `attractive` but lying doctrines of men, then they have left themselves exposed and wide open to Satanic attack and domination and ultimate destruction. Let`s now go to and read Matthew 15: 3-9. `But He (Jesus) answered them and said, Why do you also disobey the commandments of God by your traditions? For God commanded saying, Honour your father and your mother, and he that curses father or mother, let him die the death. But you say, Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, (next bit paraphrased) I am a gift to you and you should accept me as I am. And therefore does not honour his father or his mother, thus making him free of them. In this way you have made the commandment of God of none effect by your tradition. You hypocrites, well did Isaiah speak of you saying, This people draw near to Me with their mouth and honour Me with their lips, but their heart is far from Me. But in vain do they worship Me, teaching as Godly fact, the commandments of men.` So, besides giving us a set of obligatory guidelines known as `commandments`, (which if adhered to will enable an individual to survive spiritually not only in this lifetime but in the one to come), with what else does God`s law enable us? Well, specifically it defines for us that which is sin, or to use another word, evil. Let`s look at what the apostle, Paul, has to say in Romans 7: 7-14. (paraphrased in parts) `What shall we say then, is the law sin? God forbid! For I did not know sin except that the law defined it for me. I did not understand what lust is, only the law states, You shall not covet. But sin, taking opportunity by the commandment, worked in me all manner of sin. Because without law, sin is no longer sin. Because I was alive without the law once, but when I knew the law, then I also knew what sin was, and I died. And the law which was given for life, I found to be death, because sin, taking opportunity by way of the law, deceived me, and by it, killed me. Wherefore the law is holy, and the commandment to obey the law is holy and just and good. Has it occurred then that that which is good, has become a thing of death for me? God forbid! But sin, that it might appear as sin, worked death in me by that which is good, so that sin in comparison to the law, might be recognised as exceedingly sinful. We know that the law is spiritual, but I am worldly, sold under sin.` Earlier in this article I mentioned that mankind, as mere flesh and blood, has no inherent law. So, did the Lord God, create mankind as naturally lawless and then try and impose His law and His will upon us almost in hope, as an afterthought, knowing that it is something that we are more than likely just not capable of obeying? Well no, just the opposite in fact, the ability to recognise and obey God`s law is one of the main God-given attributes that separates us from the rest of flesh and blood creation, the animals etc. There are examples given in the old testament to illustrate this point but we`ll take a look at the new testament and read in this how God, has decided to make it even easier for us over time to recognise and relate to His laws. Hebrews 8: 8-10. `For finding fault with them, He says, Behold the days come, says the Lord, when I will make a new agreement with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah. Not according to the agreement that I made with their fathers in the day that I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt, because they did not continue in My agreement, and I disregarded them, says the Lord. This is the agreement that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, says the Lord. I will put My laws into their mind and write them into their hearts. And I will be to them a God, and they shall be to Me, a people.` And now to Romans 2: 11-15. `For there is no respect of persons with God. For as many that have sinned without law, shall also perish without law, and as many as have sinned in the law, shall be judged by the law. For not the hearers of the law shall be justified before God, but those who are doers of the law, they shall be justified. For when those who have not the law, do by nature those things that are in the law, these, having not the law, are a law unto themselves, thus bearing witness of the law which is written in their hearts, their conscience also bearing witness, and their thoughts the meanwhile, accusing or excusing one another.` Of course there will always be criminal lawbreakers who will insist that they never knew the law of God, and persistently deny all knowledge of it, and there will be plenty of `ordinary` people who will claim that their church or their priest or minister led them astray by their teachings of `God loves us no matter how we behave`. Sadly, that much about the clergy and the churches of this world leading people astray is true, they can be held almost totally responsible for the lawlessness of this world through their continuing Satanically inspired teachings, doctrines, idols and `holy` days etc. This being the case, should we imagine that the Lord God considers every ordinary person as being guiltless and is therefore going to lay all of the blame for the sins of this world on the shoulders of its` clergy and / or successive world rulers and governments? No, no He is not. The scriptures tell us that every man and woman is to be held accountable for their own sins, they will not be allowed to use another person`s errors or deliberate sins and deceptions as an excuse for the wrongdoings that they themselves have committed. Let`s have a read of Romans 1: 20-21. `For the invisible things of Him, from the creation of the world, are clearly identifiable, being understood by the things that are created, including His eternal Godhead, so that they are without excuse. Because that, when they knew (of a) God, they glorified Him not as God, neither were they thankful, but became conceited in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened.` now 29-32. `Being filled with all unrighteousness, fornication, wickedness, covetousness, maliciousness, full of envy, strife, murder, deceit, malice, whisperers, backbiters, haters of God, insolent, proud, boasters, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents, without understanding, promise breakers, without natural love, implacable, unmerciful, who, knowing the judgment of God, that they who commit such things are worthy of death, not only do the same, but have pleasure in them that do them.` And what about the man-made law givers of the world who invent laws to benefit themselves and their kind, and whose laws are contrary to the laws of God, are they to be judged as being merely ignorant, misguided `do-gooders`, or are they to be judged as the hypocritical schemers that many of them really are? Well, staying in the book of Romans, let`s turn to and read Romans 2: 1-6. `Therefore you are inexcusable, O man, whosoever you are that judge, for wherein you judge another, you thereby condemn yourself, for you that judge are guilty of the same things. But we are sure that the judgment of God is according to the truth against them which commit such things. And think you this, O man that judge them that do such things, and do the same yourself, that you shall escape the judgment of God? Or do you despise the riches of His goodness and forbearance and patience, not knowing that the goodness of God leads you to repentance? But after your hardness and impenitent heart, treasure up to yourself wrath against the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgment of God, who will render to every man according to his deeds.` Government after successive government in this country of Britain have allowed, even encouraged, the eroding away and `watering down` of Almighty God`s good laws. This has been allowed to happen year after year and not only in this country but also in other `Israelite` countries until now we have reached the stage were the very mention of our true Christian God, in some of them, is to break one of man`s evil laws. No longer are we allowed, in state run schools, to have our children called to a morning assembly to partake in a `christian` service of worship, where at the very least, years ago, the children would get to know about the bible and the scriptures and the existence of the one true God. Yes, the one true God, whose good laws have been established to guide us away from and protect us from evil, from the god of this world, Satan, and all of his millions of demons who roam this earth `seeking whom they may devour`. Satan, that arch enemy of mankind the antithesis of all that is right and loving and good and importantly, of all that has life and is alive, because Satan himself, is very death! Satan is sin and sin is death, and for the unrepentant sinners of this world, those who willingly and knowingly continue to follow Satan in deed and in spirit, there is to be no forgiveness for sin, no eternal life, only death in the lake of fire and then, nothingness! If only the people of this earth would realise that Almighty God is allowing Satan's power right now, to be close to if not already at, its` zenith, and that he (Satan) as a consequence, is nearing his own absolute, catastrophic destruction. His time is nearly over and as a result of this, the most terrible end-time scenario that this world could ever, will ever have to endure, is already beginning to unfold. A scenario that is to be worse than all of the atrocities that have ever been committed by mankind in every war that has ever been waged on this earth, and this includes all of the vile atrocities inflicted by the Waffen SS on innocent men, women and children in their torture and extermination camps. We can have a `taste` of this horror to come if we turn to and read Revelation 9: 1-6. `And the fifth angel sounded, and I saw a star fall from heaven to the earth, and to him was given the key of the bottomless pit. And he opened the bottomless pit, and there arose a smoke out of the pit as the smoke of a great furnace, and the sun and the air were darkened by reason of the smoke of the pit. And there came out of the smoke locusts upon the earth, and to them was given power, as the scorpions of the earth have power. And it was commanded them that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree, but only those men which do not have the seal of God in their foreheads. And to them it was given that they should not kill men, but that they should be tormented five months, and their torment was that of a scorpion when it strikes a man. And in those days men shall look for death, but they will not find it, they shall desire to die, and death shall flee from them.` At this point in the article, I think it important to try to establish the role that Satan is currently playing in world affairs. To the unaware and the unbelieving it is basically, non existent, but to those of us who have an awareness we can comprehend that Satan's role is almost (for the moment) an invisible passive/aggressive one. That is to say that most of his work is being done on the `spiritual` level, the outcome of this is, and has been throughout the whole time of human existence, been made manifest in the current war-waging and chaotic and miserable state of our world. But the real end time trouble will begin when Satan is allowed to go `hands on` as it were. Most people reading this will know that Satan really does exist but unfortunately this is not the case with the majority of mankind. Even some so-called `christians` who acknowledge the existence of Satan have an almost childish concept of what he is actually like. For example they willfully perpetuate the popular image of Satan, every year, as being the rather playful and mischievous scarlet-cat-suited figure, when they celebrate the Satanically inspired and driven `hallowe`en`. We can understand that because of their unbelief in a loving God, (whose very existence through everything that He has created all but literally shouts to them, `Here I Am !`), that the majority of the world's peoples cannot believe in the opposite to Him, Satan, or even for some, accept that evil and evil people really do exist and have to be severely dealt with. Unfortunately for those people who do accept that evil does exist, the majority of them have their notion, their concept of evil, completely influenced by the movies and / or television programmes. I can recall one episode of `Dr. Who`, where he actually went down into the bottomless pit, did battle with `Satan`, and won! No need for Jesus Christ when you've got `Dr. Who`! There is a never ending stream of `occult` movies and T.V. programmes, so much so that far from scaring people as they might once have done say 30 or so years ago, they have now become just another form of mass distraction passed off as entertainment. And as for the youngsters who have been `weaned` on this Satanically inspired `occult` entertainment, (including the `Harry Potter` books and films) well, for the majority, they grow up to eventually not believe any of it. They (quite rightly) dismiss most if not all of it as childish fairy tale nonsense, but here`s the unfortunate consequence of this, in dismissing and throwing out the Hollywood version of evil and evil beings, and its` imagined `superheroes` and `saviours` etc., these youngsters also grow up to dismiss as a fairy tale anything that is within the pages of the bible, (not, I would suppose, that any have ever read and actually understood it) because the marvellous wonders described within its pages, if ever told to them, are equated to being just another author's or script writer's wild, fantastical imaginings. Yes, the 'baby' is in danger of being completely 'thrown out with the bath water', just as Satan wants it to be. There are of course those of the ludicrous extreme who do believe in fairies and elves, unicorns, goblins, 'nature' spirits, the healing powers of crystals and the like, but mention Jesus Christ or God the Father to any of them and they'll more than likely tell you to your face that They, are nothing more than characters from Jewish fables and fiction, and are nothing compared to the healing power of 'mind over matter'. I wonder how far the beliefs of these 'fairy tale dreamers' will sustain or heal them if they ever find themselves or their loved ones critically injured in say a car crash or they are diagnosed as having an incurable and increasingly agonizing and ultimately terminable condition or illness? There is an old saying, and it is simply this, 'You will not find many 'atheists' clinging onto a life raft in a storm tossed sea or lying mortally wounded on a battlefield'. All this confusion, chaos, fantasy, unbelief and half truths, it is exactly what Satan wants and delights in. He really does not want people to know or believe that he actually exists! He knows that if people imagine that he is just another being from the books of mythology and do not believe that he exists and that he is the very incarnation of evil and of death, then people will ignore and fail to recognise his subtle and ultimately destructive ways. What are these ways? They are everything that is contrary to the commandments of a loving Almighty God. Satan also realises, as I've mentioned before, that if a person doesn't believe that he exists then there is every chance that that person will not believe that God exists, after all, don't they both appear in the same book? I am appalled about the ignorance that people have these days regarding the teachings of the biblical scriptures. For instance, I heard on the radio, of a lady who went into a jewellers shop to buy a silver cross to hang around her neck, she was politely asked by the young shop assistant whether she would like a plain cross or 'one with some sort of a little man stuck on it?' (Don't misunderstand, I'm not advocating the use of a crucifix) Because of such Christian, spiritual and scriptural ignorance amongst our growing generation, the society in which we now live is in ever increasing danger of becoming more and more lawless, and more permissive of grotesque and perverse activities, 'legal' or otherwise. Even now it does not seem able to grasp just how fragile and just how scant is the respect that remains for the little of God's good law that is still in force and is still somehow managing to keep 'things together'. But for how much longer? In recent history, there has always been at least a thin veneer of the apparent keeping and respect of the Lord God's laws, but now, even that veneer, although still in place, has very little that can be found to be holding it there. Unfortunately the days are not so far away now when the cracks already in it will widen and it will start to fall away in ever increasingly large chunks. Let's have a read of Romans 3: 10-18. 'As it is written; There is none righteous, no, not one. There is none that understands, there is none that seeks after God. They are all gone out of the way, they are together become unprofitable, there is none that does good, no, not one. Their throat is an open grave, with their tongues they have used deceit, the poison of asps is under their lips, whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness. Their feet are swift to run and shed blood, destruction and misery are in their ways, and the way of peace they have not known. There is no respect of God before their eyes.' and down to verse 20. 'Therefore by the deeds of the law, there shall be no flesh justified in His sight, for by the law is the knowledge of sin.' Within the pages of the biblical scriptures can be found warnings of how in these latter days (the time in which we now live) the acknowledgement and realisation that evil really exists as a powerful force of Satanic malevolence will be replaced by a deliberate confusing and deceiving of people's perception of right and wrong. This ultimately results in a world in denial of its sinning ways and the consequences thereof. It is a world of no recognised evil and as a result of this, a world of no recognised good. Everything is to be accepted for what it is. A world of no shame, of no real honour, a world that constantly celebrates and rewards the mundane and the second best, a world where the wicked and the violent are honoured, patronised and rewarded, instead of the gentle and the good. Let's read Ecclesiastes 10: 5-7. 'There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, as an error which goes forth from the ruler. Folly is set in great dignity, and the rich sit in low place. I have seen servants upon horses, and princes walking as servants upon the earth.' It is (for a while) to become a world where nobody will be regarded for their past evil crimes. Yesterday's brutal child murderer and seducer will be today's 'star'celebrity. We'll read from Jeremiah 23: 10-14. 'For the land is full of adulterers, because of a curse the land mourns, the pleasant places that were to be found in the deserts are dried up, their course is evil and their power is not right. Both prophet and priest are profane. Yes, in My house have I found their wickedness, says the Lord. Wherefore their ways shall be to them as slippery ways in the darkness, they shall be driven on and fall therein, for I will bring evil upon them, even the year of their visitation, says the Lord. And I have seen folly in the prophets of Samaria, they prophesied in Baal, and caused My people Israel to sin. I have also seen in the prophets of Jerusalem, a horrible thing, they commit adultery and walk in lies, they also strengthen the hands of evildoers, so that none turn from their wickedness, they are all of them to Me, as Sodom and the inhabitants of Gomorrah.' and verses 16-27. 'Thus says the Lord of hosts, do not listen to the words of the prophets that prophesy to you, they make you vain, for they prophecy visions of their own invention, and not of My making. They say to them that despise Me, the Lord has said that you shall have peace, and they say to everyone that does what they please to do, no evil shall come upon you. Who has known the thoughts of the Lord? Who has perceived and heard His word? Who has heeded His word when it has been heard? Behold, a whirlwind has gone forth from the Lord in fury, even a grievous whirlwind, it shall fall grievously upon the head of the wicked. The anger of the Lord shall not return until He has executed and until He has performed the thoughts of His heart. In the latter days, you shall understand it perfectly. I have not sent these prophets yet they ran, I have not spoken to them yet they prophesied. But if they had understood My heart, and had caused My people to hear My words, then they would have turned them from their evil ways, and from their evil deeds. I am a God who is near, I am not a God who is far away. Can anybody hide themselves in a secret place and I will not know where they are? Do not I fill the heaven and the earth? says the Lord. I have heard what the prophets have said that prophesie lies in My name, saying that they have dreamed, they have dreamed. How long shall this be in the heart of the prophets that prophesy lies? They are prophets of the deceit of their own heart, which think to cause My people to forget My name by their dreams which they tell every man to his neighbour, just as their fathers have forgotten My name for that of Baal.' and verse 32. 'Behold, I am against them that prophecy false dreams, says the Lord, and tell their dreams and cause My people to sin, because of their lies and their boasting. Yet I did not send them, nor did I command them, therefore what they do, shall not benefit this people at all, says the Lord.' As stated in Jeremiah, these 'prophets' are the people who have verbal sway and influence over the general public, or as is more likely these days they will be politicians, pop 'stars', personalities, movie 'stars', broadcasters, media tycoons, indeed anybody who has regular access to the main media to voice their opinions and recommend their particular fancies for lifestyle- choice and behaviour. But as bad as this truly is because of the way that it gradually corrupts and perverts, there is worse, much worse, and it emanates from the priests and the ministers of the so-called `christian` churches of this world. Let`s read what Jesus Himself has to say about them in Matthew 7: 15-23. `Beware of false prophets that come to you in sheep`s clothing but inwardly they are devouring wolves. You shall know them by their actions. Do men gather grapes from a thorn bush or figs from thistles? Even so, every good tree brings forth good fruit, but a bad tree brings forth worthless fruit. A good tree cannot bring forth worthless fruit, neither can a bad tree bring forth good fruit. Every tree that does not produce good fruit is hewn down and cast into the fire. Wherefore by their fruits you shall know them. Not everyone that says to Me, Lord, Lord, will enter into the kingdom of heaven, but he that does the will of My Father that is in heaven. Many will say to Me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not spoken in Your name? And in Your name, cast out demons? And in Your name done many wonderful works? And then I will profess to them, I never knew you. Depart from Me, you that work evil.`

It is very probable that the uncouth and obscene `role models` and personalities of this age and of ages past may well in time be forgiven for the way that they have behaved. Most of them do not presume to justify their behaviour by saying that it is alright in the sight of the Lord God, unlike the so-called `christian` clergy, the priests and ministers of this world who even have the audacity to claim that the perversions and the `christian` ceremonies that they have invented and perform are being done in the name of and with the blessing and the understanding of, Almighty God. Their vile behaviour and lying, misleading words have more than likely paved the way to many a young and not so young person`s guilt free, promiscuous and lawless life-style. Only the Lord God knows what the final judgment of these `christian` clergy will be for the way that they have opened the gates for all manner of vile practices to abound. Even if some of these practices are `condemned` by certain of these churches, they do very little to discourage or prevent them, and their clergy continue provide balm and false hope for the people`s conscience by telling them that all you have to do for forgiveness from God, is `just believe`, or just go along to the `confessional` and ask some priest to forgive you your sins, a priest who is more likely than not a worse sinner than the person who is asking him or her for forgiveness! Unfortunately most of the world is deceived by the very lie that it is now living, it has been driven to a kind of madness by it, but, just as it refuses to recognise the lie, it also refuses to recognise the madness. And the people of this world continue to hurtle headlong in their Satanically driven desire to experience and fill up with every conceivable sexual and hedonistic pleasure that they set their heart upon. The manifestation of their madness takes the form of them realising that they only have a short (Godless) lifetime (with no hope of any life after death) in which to indulge themselves as they imagine everybody else is indulging themselves. Let`s have a look at Haggai 1: 6-7. `You have sown much and bring in little, you eat, but you have not enough, you drink, but you are not filled with drink, you put on clothes, but there is none who are warm, and he that earns wages, earns wages to put into a bag full of holes. Thus, says the Lord God, consider your ways.`

Because there is no living God in their life, (or there is a `god` but it is a `god` that their `christian` clergy have led them to imagine the like of which exists), there is no fear of retribution for the way that they behave. Sin has no fear for any of them, it is something that either does not exist or it is something that can be gotten rid of time after time after time, by simply asking a priest for forgiveness and / or giving lots of money to the church. There is no personal contact with the Lord God, for these people, no relationship, no personal prayer and true repentance, the intrusion of the priest or minister has seen to that! How dare these clergy present themselves as a barrier between a man and His Maker! How dare they presume to intercede on behalf of the Lord God Almighty! Did Jesus Christ suffer and die for nothing ?

No, no He did not, He suffered and died not only so that our sins may be forgiven us but also that we may take full responsibility for our own sins and have direct contact with our heavenly Father and Jesus Christ Himself by means of our own personal prayers and thereby be able to directly and sincerely ask Them for forgiveness. Priests and ministers are supposed to be servants who help the people of this world come to the knowledge of the truth of God through the reading and the correct interpretation of the scriptures, they cannot and never could, forgive any man or woman their sins. They are not supposed to act superior to people by putting on fancy `airs and graces`, or by mincing around in all of their fancy attire, or by living it up in their hugely expensive residences, or by extorting money from people by their deliberate gross misinterpretation and in many cases downright lies concerning the written word of God, thus enabling many of them to live the jet-setting, comfortable lifestyles that they have become accustomed to living. Let`s read Ezekiel 44: 12. `Because they ministered to them before their idols, and caused the house of Israel to fall into iniquity, therefore I have lifted up My hand against them, says the Lord God, and they shall bear their iniquity.` Now I shall combine with that scripture this one from Habakkuk 1: 4. `Therefore the law is ignored, and judgment never goes forth, for the wicked do surround about the righteous, therefore wrong judgment proceeds.` Many who are reading this article are in a position to know and believe in God`s word, and to recognise good and evil, and to call them as such, having faith to be patient and to wait (but not idly) for the fulfilment of all things. It`s time now, I think, to read of what true Christian believers and keepers of God`s just law have been promised for their efforts, we can find this in Luke 6: 20-26. `And He lifted up His eyes on His disciples and said; Blessed be you poor, for yours is the kingdom of God. Blessed are you that hunger now, for you shall be filled. Blessed are you that weep now, for you shall laugh. Blessed are you when men shall hate you and shall exclude you from their company, and shall reproach you, and cast out your name as evil, for the Son of man`s sake. Rejoice you in that day and leap for joy, for behold, your reward is great in heaven, because in like manner did their fathers to the prophets. But woe to you that are rich, because you have already received your reward. Woe to you that are full now, because in future you shall hunger. Woe to you that laugh now, because in future you shall mourn and weep. Woe to you when all men shall speak well of you, for so did their fathers to the false prophets.` Let`s remember that the God given right to discern between good and evil and then to make a free, informed choice between the two, was made available to mankind, but at a double price. Firstly, mankind was to pay the price, let`s read Genesis 3: 22. `And the Lord God said; Behold, the man is become as one of Us, to know good and evil, and now, in case he puts forth his hand to take also of the tree of life and eat, and live forever. . .` now verse 24. `So He drove the man out of the garden of Eden, and He placed at the east of the garden, Cherubims, and a flaming sword which turned every way to keep the man from the tree of life.` Now we`ll read verses 14-19. `And the Lord God said to the serpent; Because you have done this, you are cursed above all cattle, and above every beast of the field; upon your belly you shall go, and dust shall you eat all the days of your life. And I will put hostility between you (Satan) and the woman, and between your seed and her seed, it shall bruise your head, and you shall bruise his heel. To the woman he said; I will greatly multiply your sorrow and your pain in childbirth, in sorrow you shall bring forth children, and your desire shall be to your husband, and he shall rule over you. And to Adam He said; because you have listened to the voice of your wife, and have eaten of the tree which I commanded you, saying, you shall not eat of it; cursed is the ground for your sake, in sorrow shall you eat of it all the days of your life.` The second price to be paid was to be paid by Almighty God Himself, in the shape and form of Jesus Christ who, as we know, paid the ultimate price, laying down his very life in order to redeem mankind from evil and from sin, sin which we sometimes find so attractive but will always, when we decide to do it, find easy to commit. The majority of mankind finds sin so attractive as opposed to obeying Almighty God's ten commandments because they have no faith in the words of God, no faith in the truth and they perceive true Christians as living a pointless, dull, existence, just wasting their lives. This worldly `mindset` did not go entirely unnoticed by the apostle Paul, and in 1 Corinthians 15: 19-22. we can read `If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable, (not living it `to the full` as others do) But now is Christ risen from the dead and has become the firstfruits of those who have died. For since by man (Adam) came death, by man (Jesus Christ) came also the resurrection from the dead. For as in Adam all have had to die, even so, by Jesus Christ shall all be made alive.` To deny evil, even to just water down the concept, the truth about that which is evil, is also to deny that there is a living, loving, all powerful God and Creator. Why? Because He came down from heaven and was born flesh and blood and allowed Himself to be tortured and die a slow, agonizing death, in order to deliver us from this evil. He did not deny that evil exists, He met it head on, fought it and won. And He also expects no less from us that we at least try our best to fight it. But in order to fight it, we have first to believe it exists!
